Reasons for Allowance

1. Claims 1-4, 6-10, 12-14, 16-20 and 22 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

While Levine (Patent No. 5,692,214) discloses an application program run by a personal computer for generating signals to assist the selection of television programs to be recorded at future times. The application allows the computer to receive data representing a schedule of future television programs.

Lawler (Patent No. 5,585,838) teaches a program time guide for an interactive viewing system allows a user to control the time and channels for which program information is displayed. The program time guide launch a computer executed application which generates the displayed information, or to perform some other activity associated with that channel or program.

And Ellis (Patent No. 5,986,650) teaches an electronic program schedule for receiving broadcast, satellite or cablecast television programs incorporating a scan feature into various operating modes of an Electronic Program Guide (EPG).

None of these references taken either alone or in combination discloses a method and device having all the claimed features of applicant's instant invention, specifically including: maintaining an electronic program guide with a registry for applications to be linked with occurrence of an event in information received by the electronic program guide. An application is registered with the electronic program guide to associate the registered application with an event. Additionally, while receiving information from selected information sources, monitors the occurrence of a predetermined event related to information received from the selected information sources. Also, there is no motivation to combine the Levine reference with the Ellis or Lawler references to meet these limitations. It is for these reasons that applicant's invention defines over the prior art of record.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
